

PCC AVAILABILITY HELP

By default, you will see date-driven details first. This information will display on all catalogue pages as well as cart and checkout.

The link, "Show availability by source", under the availability date/range allows you to view source information. When you click on this link, a tooltip containing all sourcing information displays.

Registered users can navigate to the Account section and then select Shopping Preferences from the side menu. Under the Shopping Cart section, there is a new preference to allow you to display the default setting of date-driven vs. source-driven information.

In either case, you will still have the option to see both data sets during the experience.
